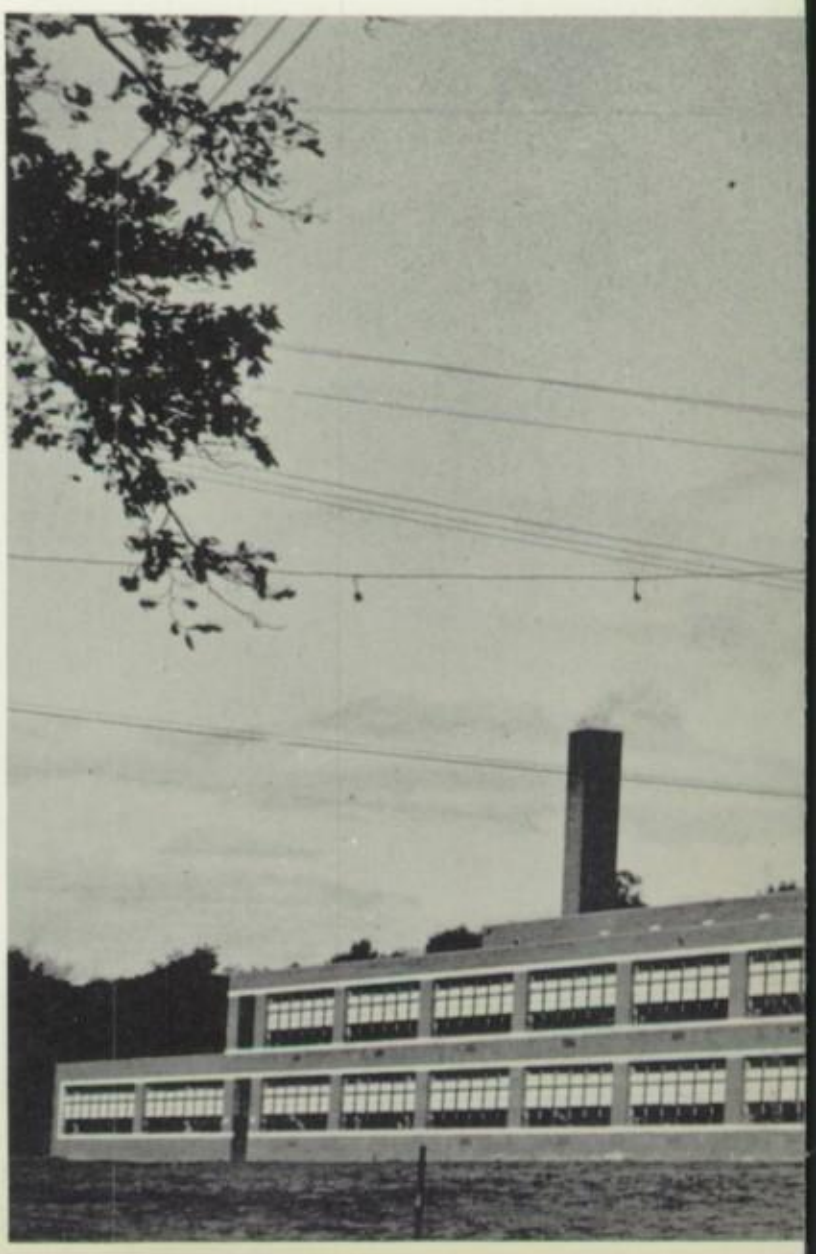
The Forest

The Canoe-Grant Elementary School was the first in a series of new elementary school buildings planned for the Marion Center jointure. It was completed in 1960.

The Creekside-Washington Elementary School at Willet, in Washington Township, will be ready to open in September. This building will eliminate the last one room schools in Indiana County-five of them in Washington Township--and the old Creekside elementary school. Each of these new schools contains six classrooms and the required additional instruction and service areas.

This school is typical of the one room schools that are closing throughout the county.



Of Knowledge

The Rayne Township Elementary School is nearly through the planning stage and construction should begin in the early summer, with completion scheduled for fall of 1963. This school will replace the Consolidated and Ernest schools.

An addition to the Marion Center Joint High School building is now under construction to add four classrooms and shop and storage areas. This was made necessary by additional areas coming into the jointure after the original plans were made for 790 pupils. These new facilities should be ready by the fall of 1962 to better provide for the present enrollment of about 975.

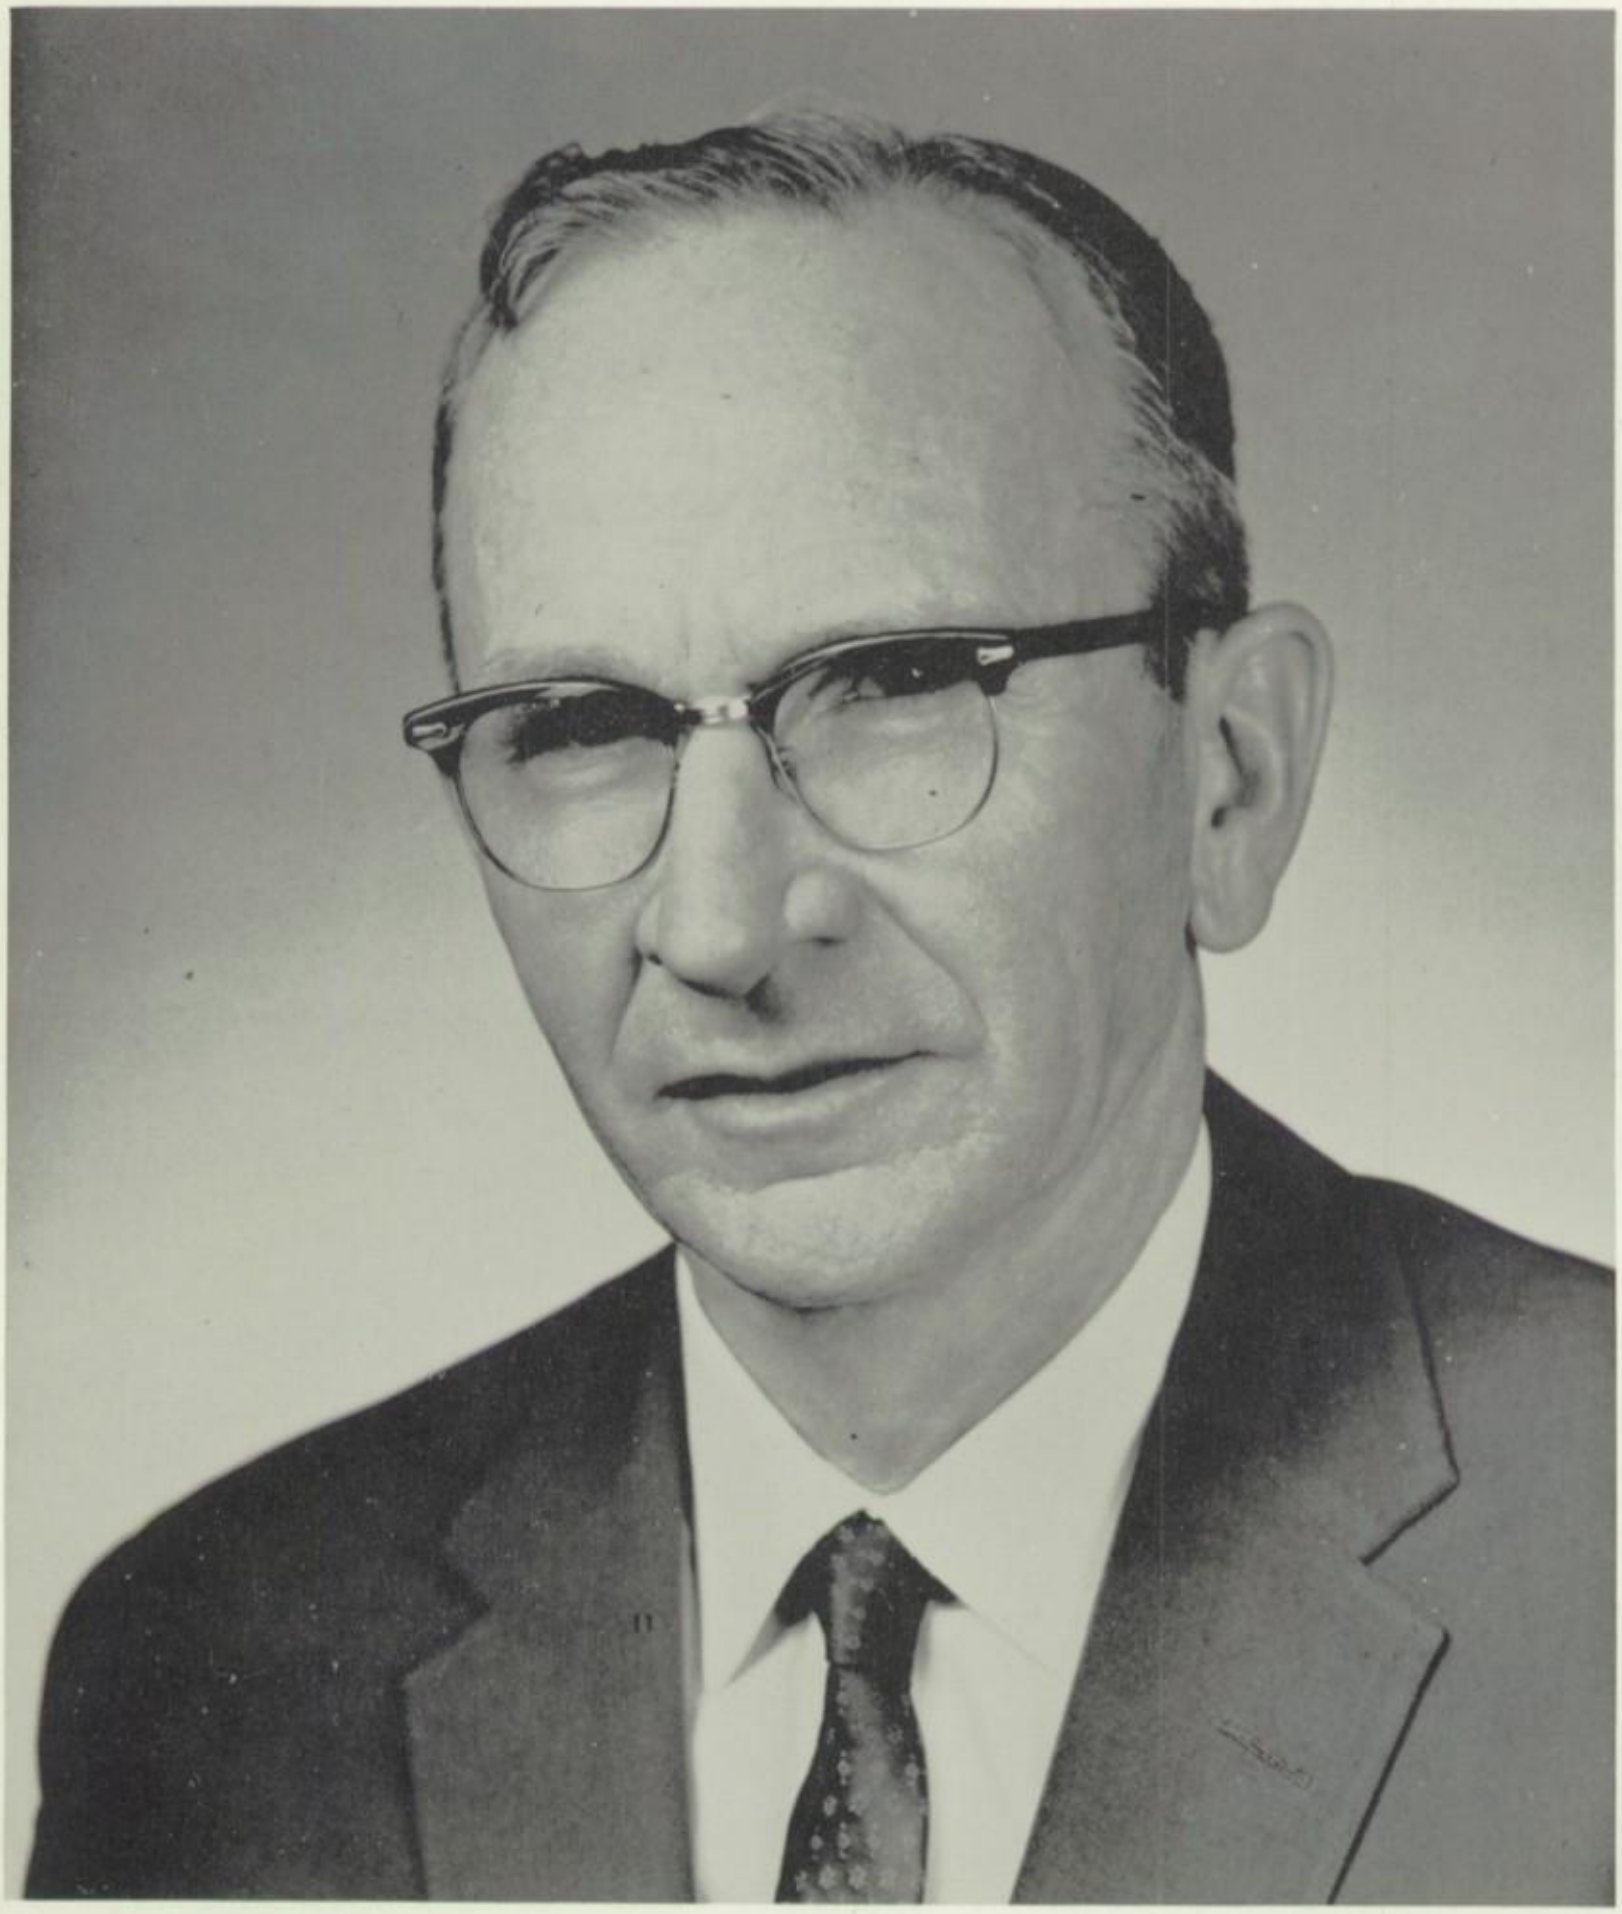
ADMINISTRATION

As the sturdy oak stands firmly rooted, giving a little with the wind but never breaking, so the administration remains secure in their beliefs; changing to meet unexpected situations, but constantly seeking to express a firm example of the best path to follow.

Supervisors Of



This individual, quite familiar to every Marion Center student, is Mr. William A. McCreery, our supervising principal. We realize the important position of this man, but how is he directly shaping our future? On the surface, he may seem removed from the average student's life, for the administrative duties are not directly in contact with most of their personal problems. However, from the moment one enters Marion Center as a student, his influence is evident in many phases of guidance, curriculum, standards, and values.

Mr. McCreery has devoted thirty-seven years of his life to Marion Center High School. He secured his Master of Education degree in school administration from the University of Pittsburgh. Our supervising principal enjoys hunting, color photography, and reading. He regards as high points in his career the formation of Marion Center Joint High School, and the steady progress toward the provision of modern and adequate school facilities for children of this area.

WATSON W. LINGENFELTER
High School Principal

The administration of an efficient, modern high school is one phase of education which most of us never consider. Here at Marion Center we are usually concerned with the score of the latest basketball game or the results of the Student Council election, but we never stop to reflect on the well-trained educators who have made Marion Center tops. As we step out into the world with its adventures, we take one moment here to thank these men of Marion Center for all that the school represents.

Activities In The Forest

Students emerge from the school building in orderly fashion during a surprise fire drill.

Jr. Red Cross members are showing costumes to be used at the Willard Home.

These band members seem pleased with their new band jackets.

This sidewalk cafe was sponsored by the French class at our annual P.T.A. Fair.

Ron Smeltzer donated blood to the Red Cross blood mobile during its annual visit to our school.

The Marion Center and Penns Manor Senior Bands held a joint concert at Marion Center on March 9, 1962.

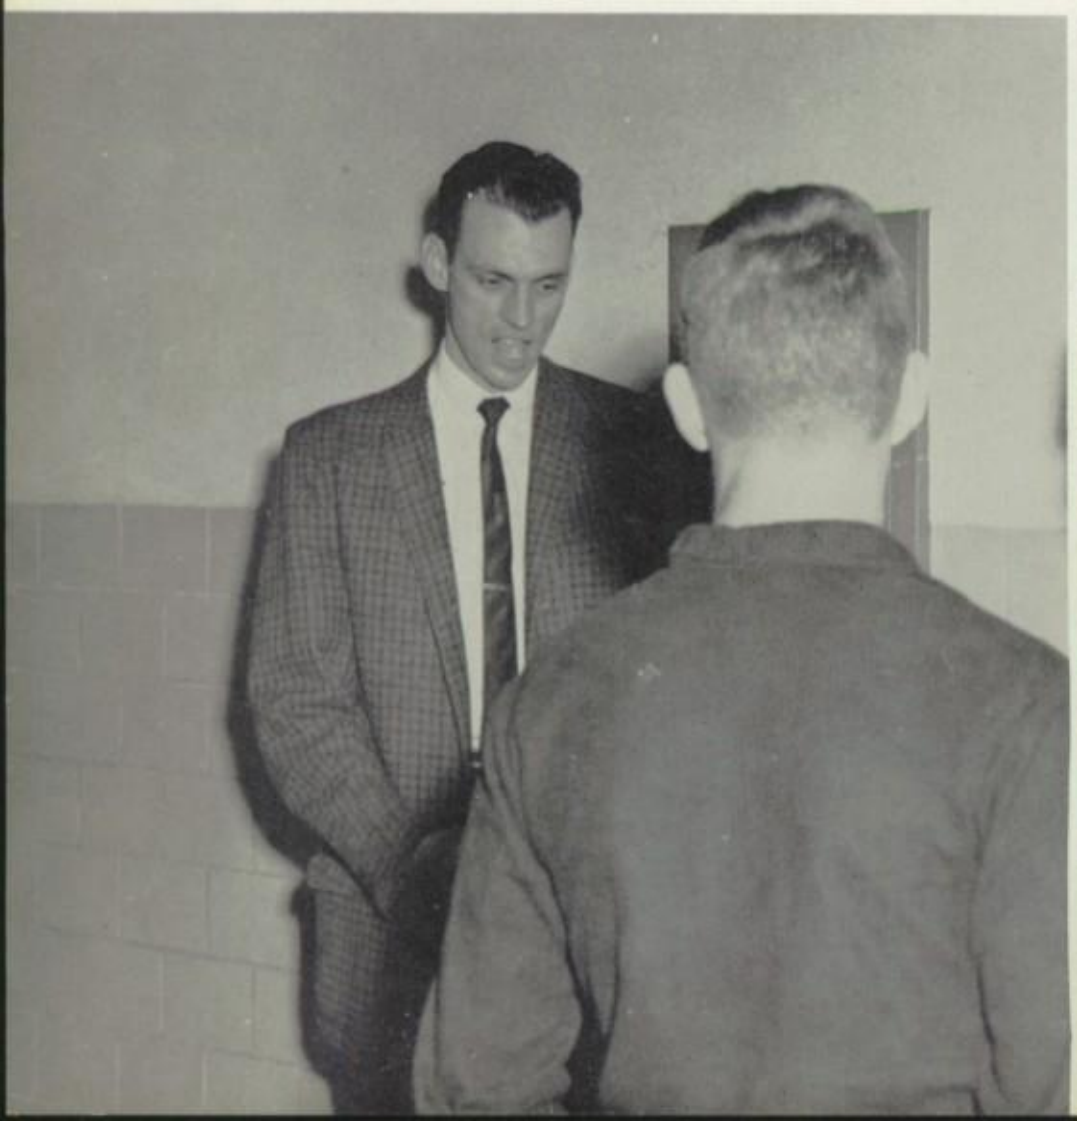
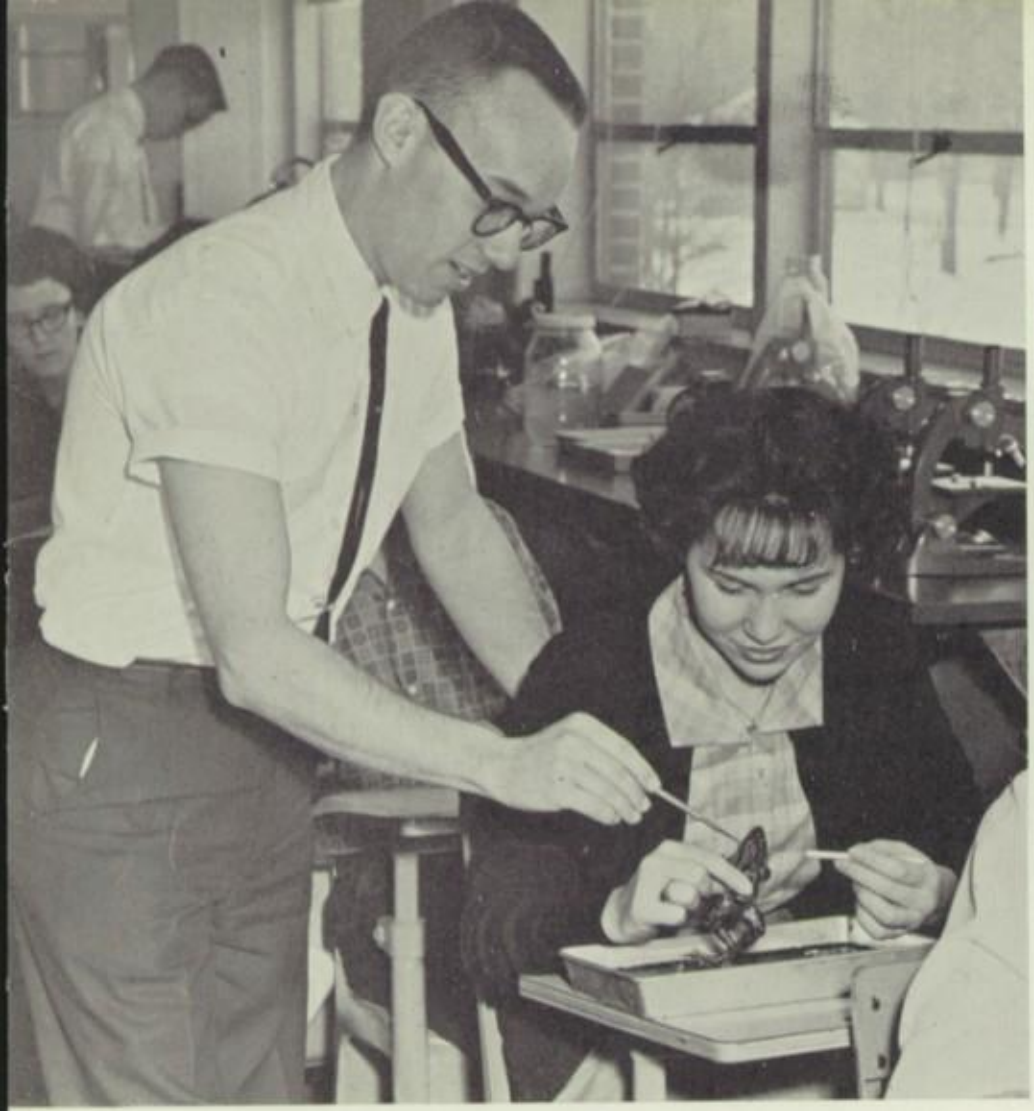
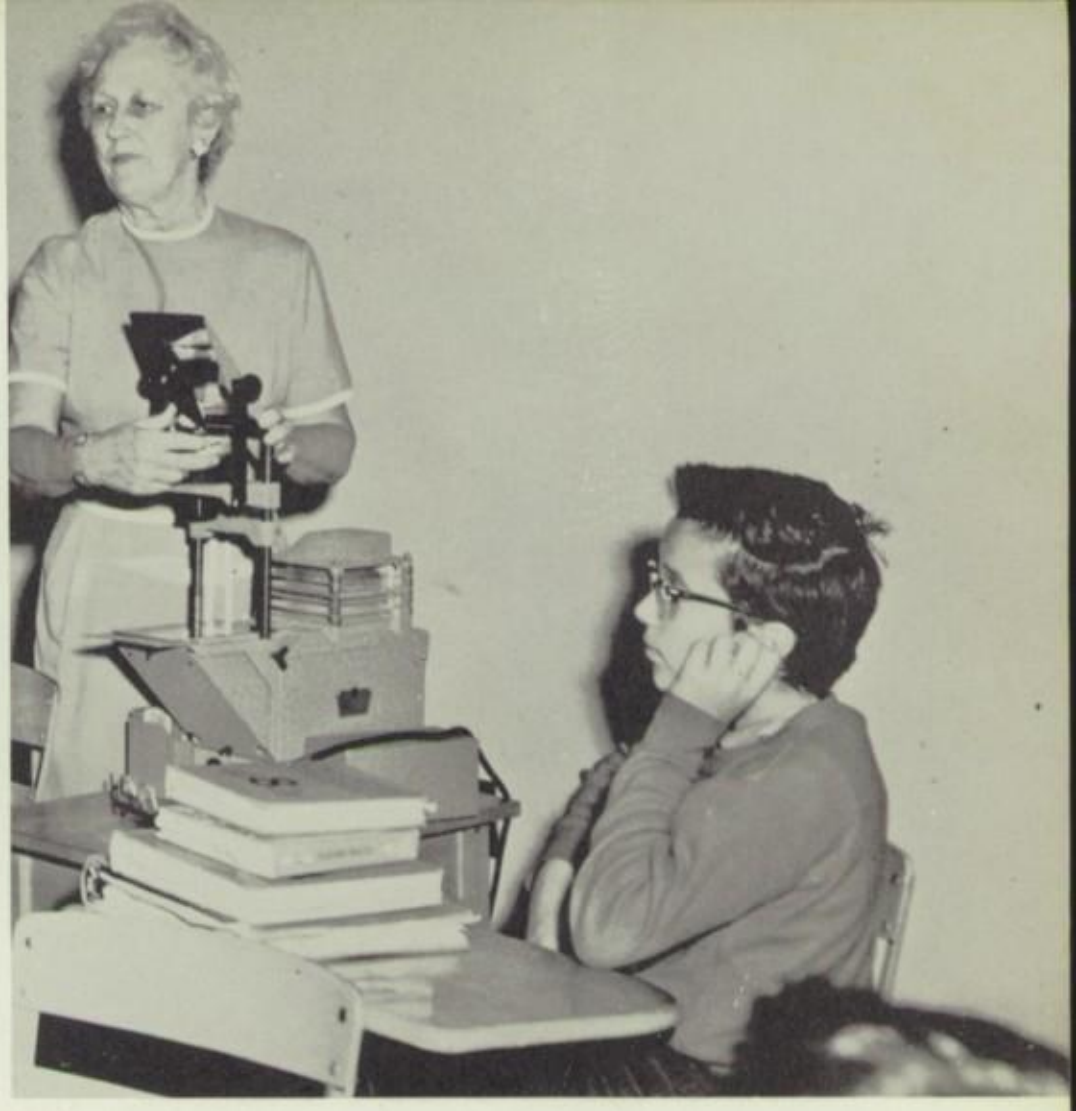
Mr. Anderson is conversing with one of the senior high pupils in the halls. It is his duty during the lunch hour to be certain everyone is in the proper place at the proper time.



Monday, fourth period, of each week is homeroom activity period. It is to be an educational and beneficial time for a discussion of problems of school and social life. Mrs. McCauley, substituting for Mrs. Dunmire, is showing an educational filmstrip to her homeroom.



This sophomore biology class is dissecting frogs under the careful instruction of Mr. Johnson. The anatomy of a frog, which is comparable to that of the human body, permits the students to see the location and size of the various body parts of this amphibian. This class activity serves to enlighten students' minds concerning human anatomy.



Mrs. Lillian Hamilton is using the tachistoscope, an audio-visual aid, in instructing one of her reading classes. This device increases a pupil's reading speed and comprehension ability, broadens perception and recognition span, and develops good seeing habits. An extensive reading program is being carried out in the junior high under the direction of Mrs. Lillian Hamilton and Mrs. Winifred Stitt.

And Begin. . .

A new organization this year is the Tenth Grade Dramatics Club. Its purposes are to further interest in English and in play production. During their regular meetings the club members perform skits, monologues, and pantomimes. Occasionally a guest speaker is invited to entertain the group with helpful tips on how to apply make-up properly, use stage lighting for different effects, or other useful advice. The main activities of the year were two one act plays which they presented for the enjoyment of the high school students.

Members of the French I Class are using the RCA mobile language laboratory as a supplement to regular classroom work. Mrs. Kerr, the instructor, listens as the pupils attempt to imitate the pronounciation and accent of the professional linguist on the tape.

SENIORS

The tree in fully opened blossoms is suggestive of the seniors who are in the full bloom of their high school careers.

The Senior

Emerging from the fringe of a forest on the hilltop are the senior class officers: Ronald Stewart, president; Joy Kaufman, secretary; Robert Bence, vice president; and Ronald Lightcap, treasurer. This picture is emblematic of the completion of high school. The forest in the rear represents their background of secondary education, while their gaze is fixed on the horizon of the future.

SPORTS

The ermine beauty of the new fallen snow as it ladens the boughs of this evergreen is a picturesque reminder that the athletic season has again returned to Marion Center.

In The School

As In The Forest,

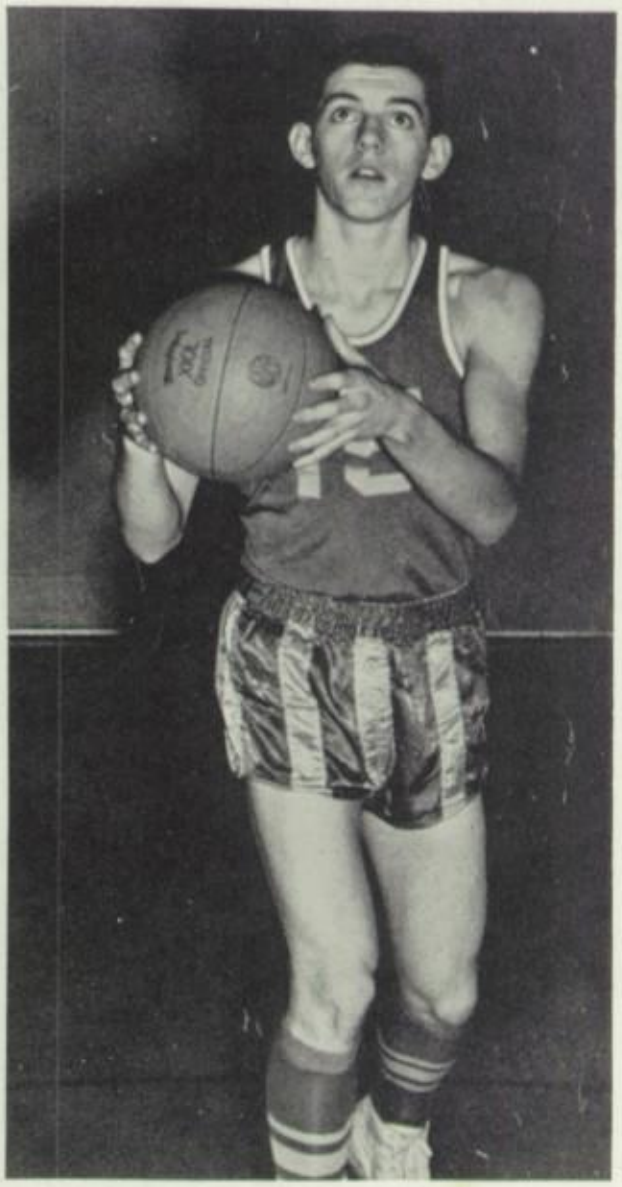
The Marion Center basketball team proved in their 1961-1962 season that hard work is not the only requirement essential for victory. The team was enthusiastic and wanted to do their best. This attitude was not only present among the players but throughout the whole school. Coach Williams drilled his players into a fast moving ball club, but all this was not enough to build a championship team. Our season was not one of the better years on record in the history of the team, but was sufficient to capture fourth place.

Tom Mashall tips the ball from an unidentified Laura Lamar player and gives Marion Center a favorable beginning in this game.

Competition Develops

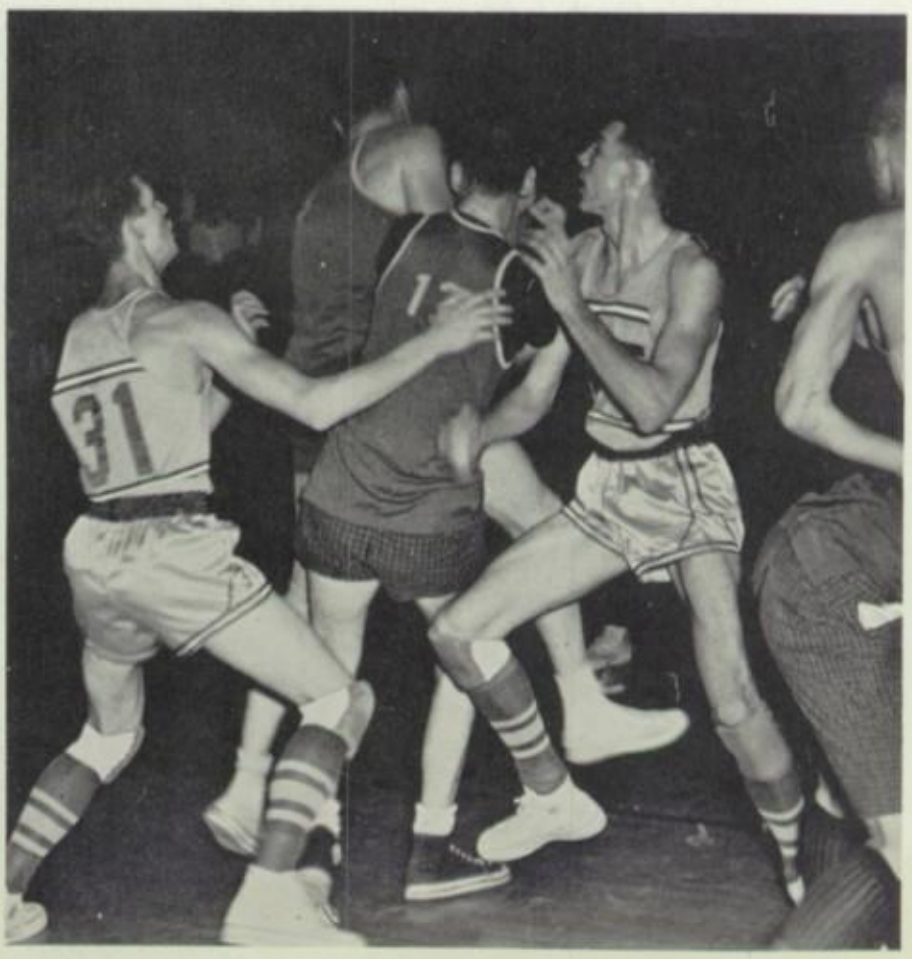
Tom Marshall fires the ball through the Marion Center hoop in spite of the blocking efforts of an opposing player.



Garry Dixson was the only member of our team to be chosen for the Indiana County All Star team. Here he pauses momentarily as he prepares for a jump shot.

The junior varsity basketball team returns to the locker room for a refreshing shower after acquiring a well-earned victory. Under the coaching of Mr. Coffman, the JV's were able to maintain their fine team spirit throughout their season.

This is only one of the many confusing plays from our annual varsity-faculty game. The faculty vainly put forth valiant efforts, but they were overpowered by a large margin in score.



Some Individuals. . .

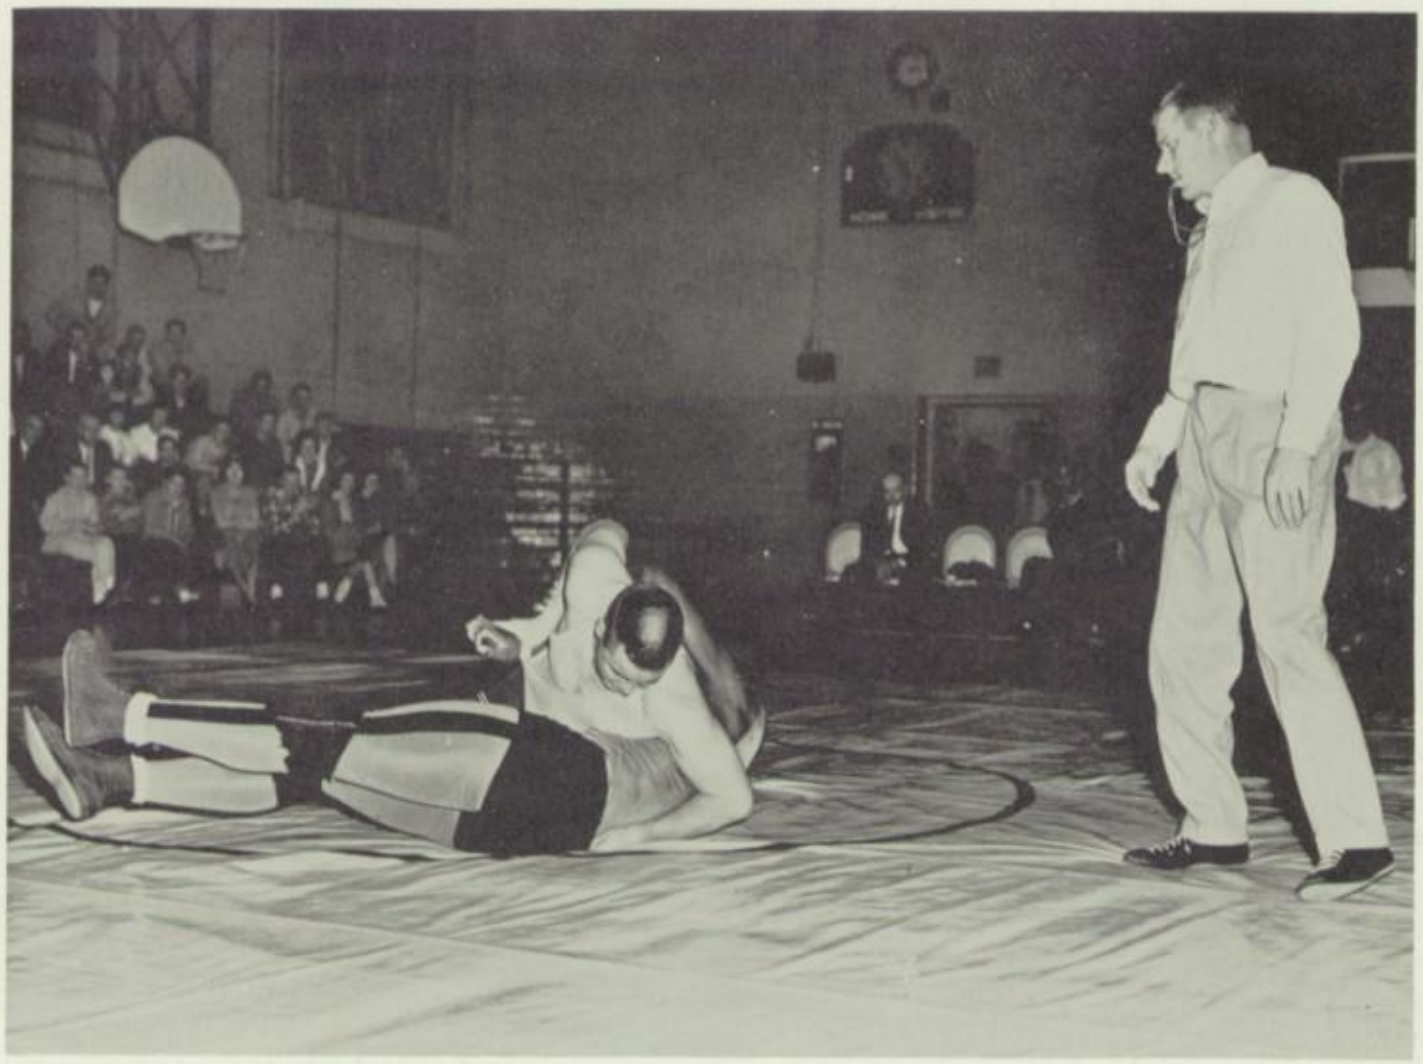
In Sports. . .



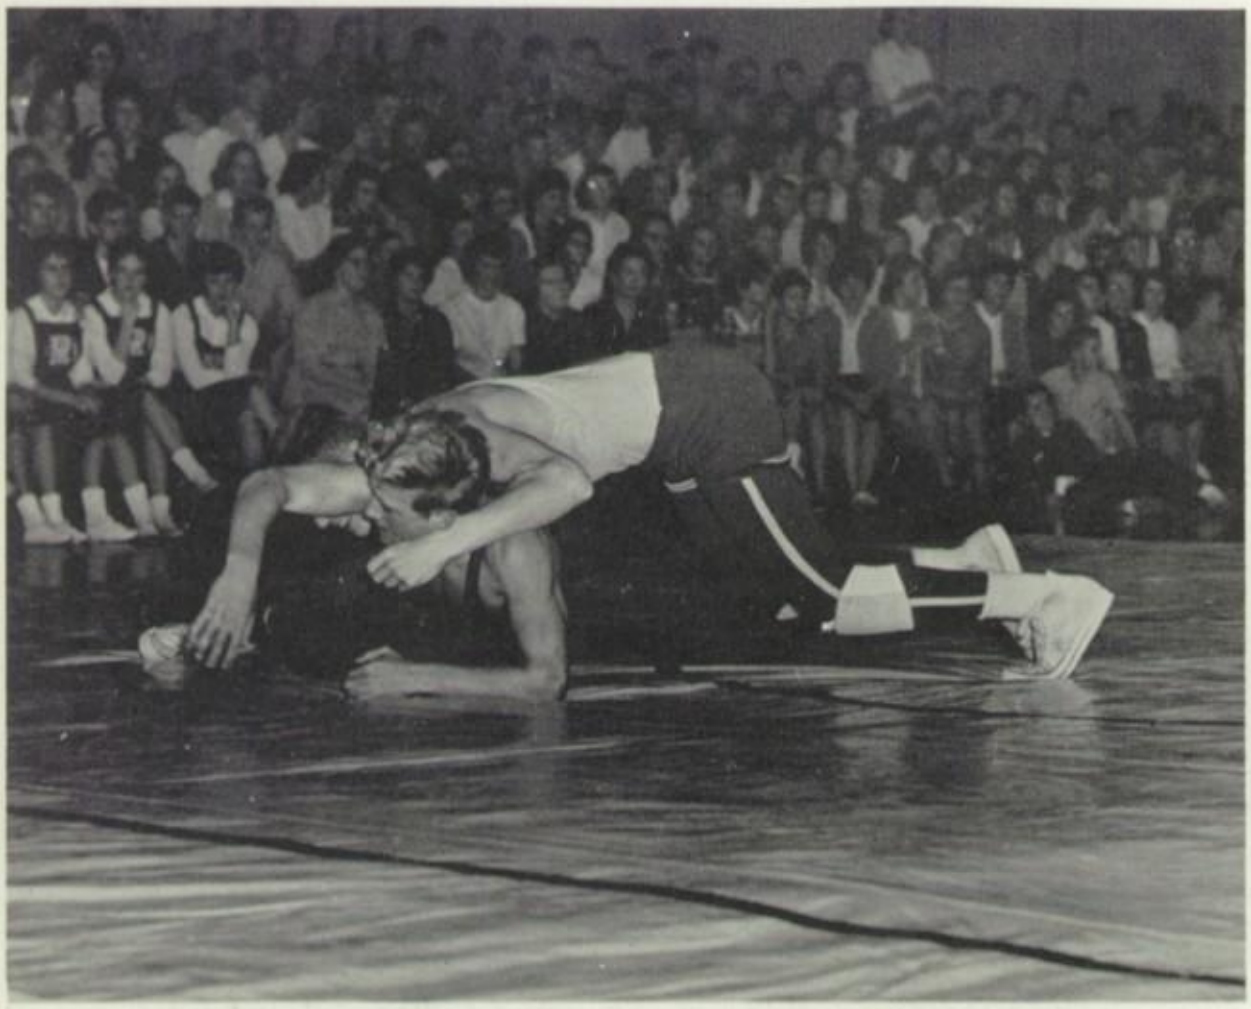
Ron Stewart, the heavyweight on our varsity squad, is shown using all his ability and strength as he wrestles Richardson from Johnstown. However, Ron was decisioned 8-4.

Under the new wrestling coach, Philip Hayes, our varsity squad turned in its best season to date with a record of eleven wins and three losses. On December 20, Marion Center sponsored its second annual Holiday Tournament, in which we were again victorious. The other participating schools were: Redbank, Blairsville, and United Joint. As a perfect climax for the season we had two shut-out matches. The first was with Brookville 56-0, the second with Elderton 62-0.

This year for the first time we sent three of our matmen to the district matches. They were Harold Moody, Don Frew, and Andy Allison. Moody was the only one to advance to the regional matches, where he was defeated. However, Moody and Allison were undefeated during the regular season.

As his coaches and teammates urge him on, Andy Allison exhibits the fine style shown by all our wrestlers during the Brookville match.

Even As



During the opening match with Redbank, Don Frew exhibited the form that sent him to the district matches at the end of the season.

Two weeks after school started, fourteen enthusiastic girls began working out new routines and cheers for the coming basketball and wrestling seasons. These girls are members of the Varsity and Junior Varsity Cheerleaders. With their vivid green and gold uniforms and new golden sweaters, they painted a peppy picture at every sports event. Besides cheering at each game and match, the girls also work hard to boost morale and school spirit by sponsoring pep assemblies.

Are More

The 1962 track squad consisted of Dean Coleman, Amos Heilbrun, Dan Kessler, Harold Moody, John Mizerak, Loren Foltz, Art Keslar, Paul Stenman, Ron Gress, Doyle Fairman, Ron Marshall, Ed Lewis, Neill Hill, Tom Marshall, Frank Taccone, Jerry Lewis, Don Frew, Tom Dixson, Gary Elkin, and Vern Styers. Managers Clark Miller, Paul Heberling, and Steve Pappal were a great help to coaches Robert Taft and Edward Nealer.

Nineteen members formed the 1962 track squad at Marion Center while eight seniors formed the nucleus of the Stinger Thinclads. Coach Robert Taft and Assistant Coach Edward Nealer lead the boys to a season record of 6-4. Senior Jerry Lewis had an outstanding record in track as the only athlete at Marion Center to enter state competition. He competed in the mile run at State College May 26, 1962, and finished 12 out of 26 runners. Jerry earned four varsity letters in track during his high school career.

Dan Kessler is handing off the baton to Harold Moody during the mile relay at the track meet with Shannock Valley. Marion Center was victorious with a time of 3:56.5 minutes. They eventually won the dual meet 62-38.

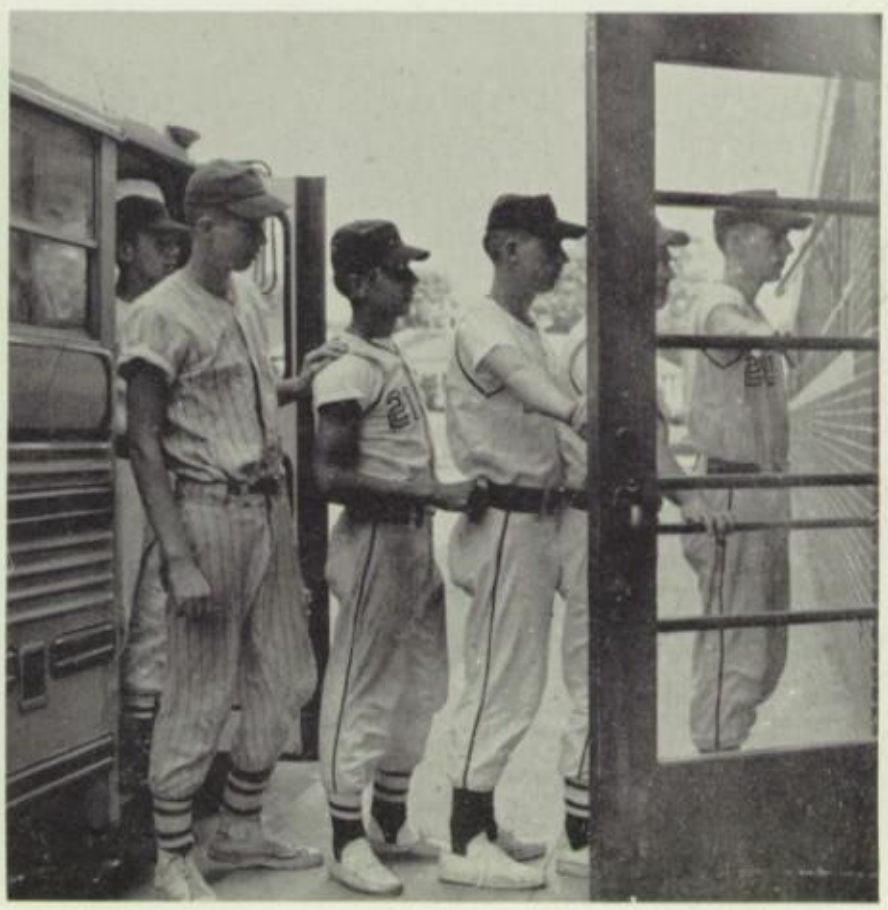
Laudable Products

As our baseball team boards the bus, everyone's mind is concentrating on the coming game, and anticipation is present, even if only subconsciously.

Action is often caught motionless by the camera, as in this picture where the ball seemingly stands still on its way to home plate.

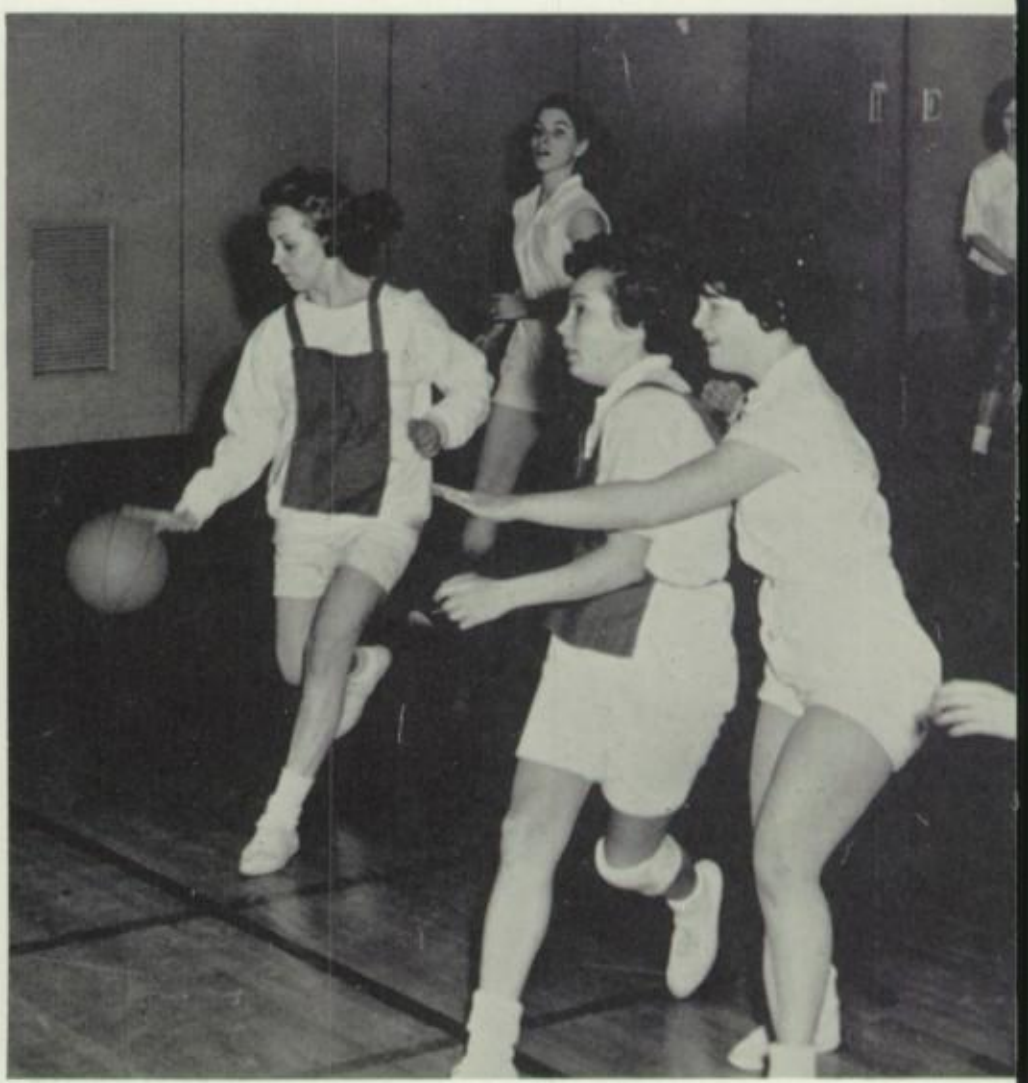
High spirits and jubilation are shown by everyone as the baseball team rides home from one of their victories.

The returning winners alight from the bus and enter the building, proud of their seasonal record of 5-1, and the County Trophy won under the objective coaching of Mr. Kenneth Williams.

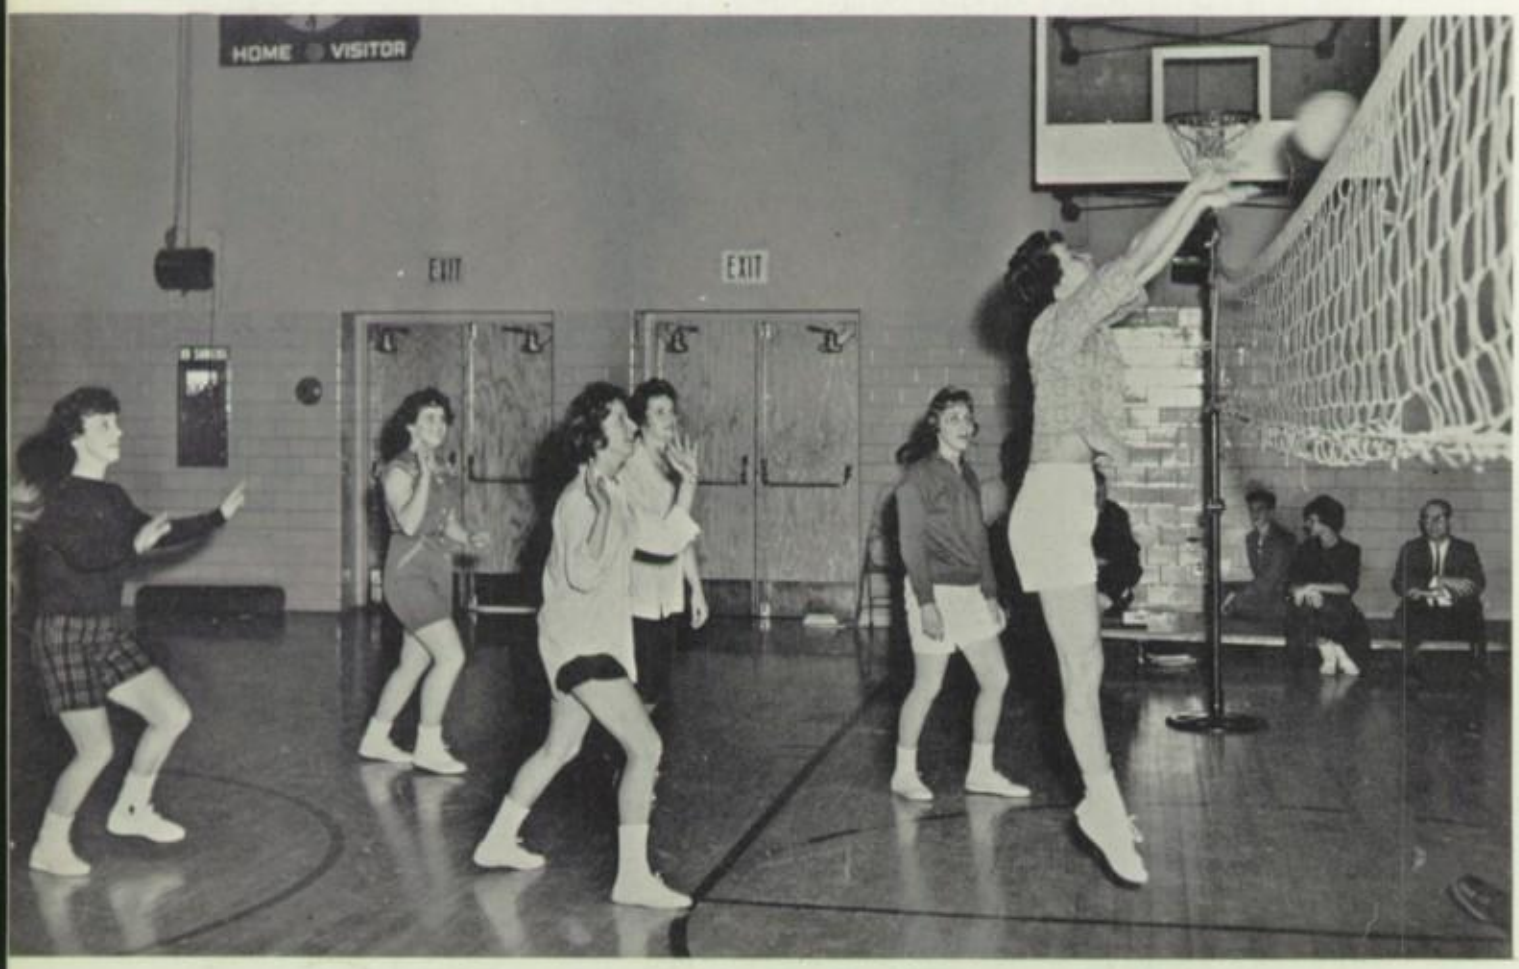


Of Forest Growth.

An entire six weeks' period was devoted to tumbling in both boys' and girls' gym classes. After learning the basic fundamentals, the classes went on to more advanced phases such as this double forward roll executed by these two girls.



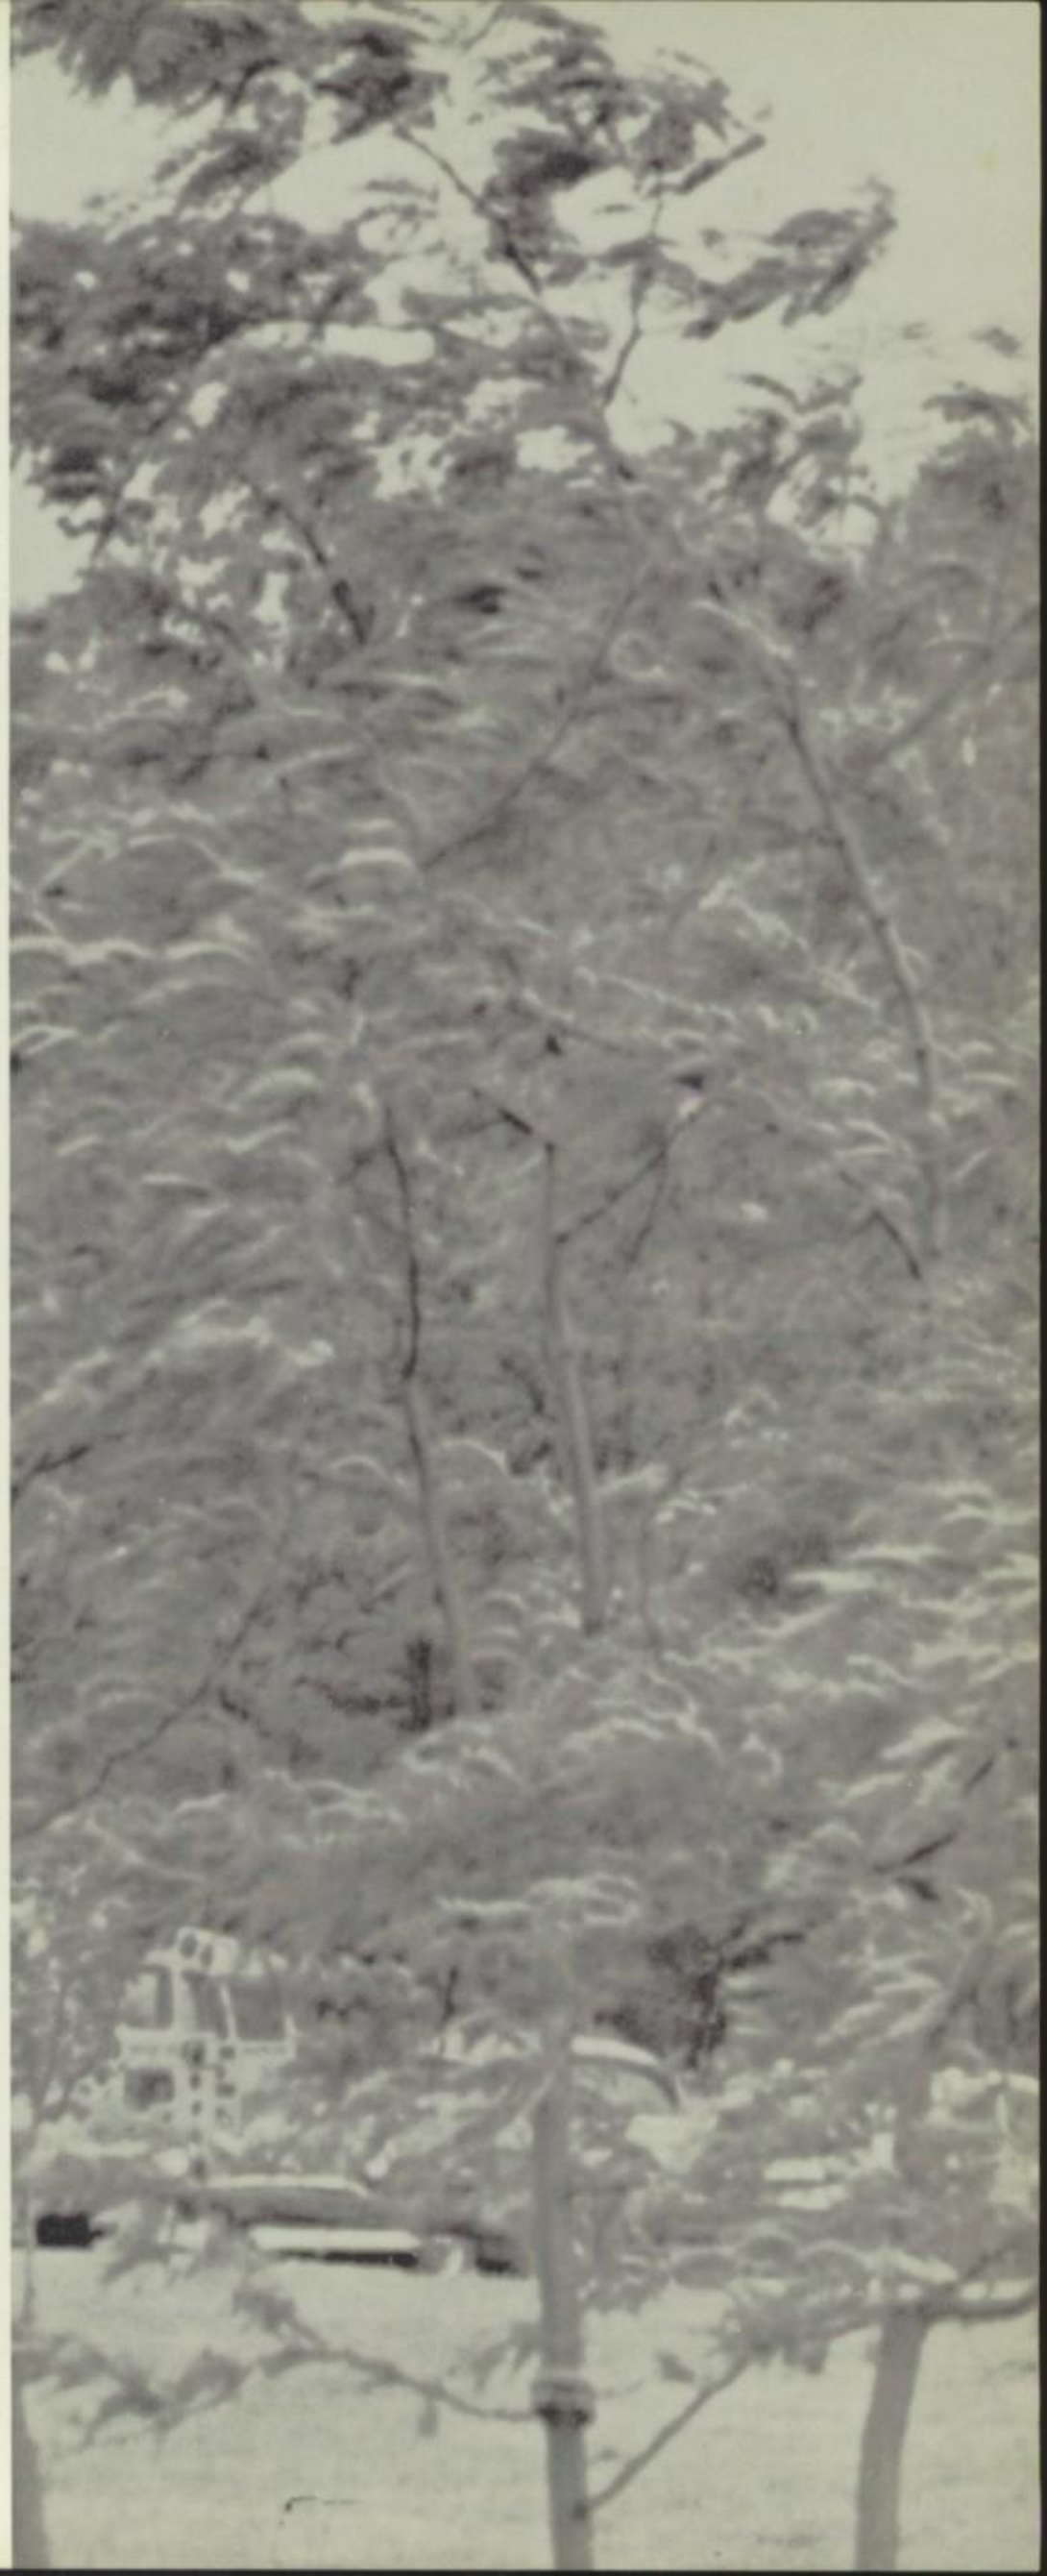
This basketball game was one of a series to provide exercise and entertainment for the Senior High girls who participated. Extracurricular activities such as these stimulate interest in sports and provide as opportunity to encourage morale.



This volleyball game was an activity for the senior girls. The teams were chosen by Miss Wanette and the play-offs were held during fifth periods. By the process of elimination, a winning team was determined.

ACTIVITIES

As this tree tosses and bends in the wind which activates each branch, twig, and leaf; so our school is kept constantly in motion by the numerous activities within it.



As Trees

The Student Council officers, Daniel Cherry, treasurer; Bonnie Dilts, vice president; Mary Baker, secretary; Steve Pappal, president; and Mr. Hoover, advisor, are listening to representative, Carolyn Piernick, report on the activities of her home room at a regular council meeting.

The Student Council, a vital communication link between the students and administration, consists of a representative from each home room. Meeting once a week, the members discuss problems brought to them by the students. After examining the problem, action is taken within the council. The issue is then taken to the administration for approval or veto. Whatever the decision, the representative reports it to his home room and asks the necessary co-operation.

This year the Student Council sponsored a Nickel A Week Campaign and a semi-formal dance in order to raise money to bring a foreign exchange student to our school. Arranging for Students' day, planning a handbook, printing a student directory, and operating the Student Council Store were among their other projects.

Those elected to serve as royalty at the semi-formal dance sponsored by the Student Council were Terry Albright, court; Barbara Baun, court; Debra Bloom, crownbearer; Paul Stenman, king; Rebecca Walker, queen; Danny Williams, crownbearer; Karen Oberlin, court; and John Mizerak, court.

Group Themselves . . .

The purpose of College Club is to enable students to explore the opportunities offered to them by various institutions of higher education. Members discuss various colleges and universities at their meetings. They also attempt to answer individual's specific questions concerning the problems of obtaining a college education. Through this organization, the members find it possible to select the college that correctly suits their needs.

President Beckie Walker pins the honorary National Honor Society Pin on Mr. Buterbaugh, departing sponsor. He was thereby made an honorary member of the Marion Center Chapter.

Secretary Kathie Caldwell presents some of the senior members of the Honor Society with their certificates of membership to the Marion Center Chapter.

According To

The Future Teachers of America is a club designed for students who plan to make a career of teaching. Under the guidance of their sponsor, Mr. Buterbaugh, the club members explore the opportunities of the teaching profession. At their meetings, the members discuss colleges, universities, and various fields of teaching. Often during the year a member is permitted to take charge of a class.

The Astronomy Club, sponsored by Mr. Coffman, is an organization which promotes the study of our universe. The members of the club participate in a variety of activities directly related to astronomy. They specialize in astrophotography and have turned out some good amateur photographs of heavenly bodies. The club has a weather station which records and predicts local weather conditions. They also make an annual field trip to the Buhl Planetarium and the Greater Pittsburgh Airport. This club seems to have fulfilled its intended educational purpose.

The Stability. . .

The officers of the Future Nurses are Barbara Barbi, treasurer; Kathryn Letso, secretary; Ruth Haldin, president; and Martha Miller, vice president.

The officers of the Junior Red Cross are Ruth Rummel, vice president; Helen Bernard, county council representative; Loretta Mumau, president; Patricia DeHaven, secretary; and Mary Lee Black, treasurer.

The Junior Red Cross and Future Nurses are deeply interested in public welfare. The members of both clubs are constantly striving to aid their fellow citizens. The clubs jointly sponsored activities and entertainment for patients in veterans' hospitals and recruited applicants for the Bloodmobile. The Future Nurses are in charge of obtaining and filing an up-to-date physical record for each student attending school in the Marion Center Jointure. The Junior Red Cross collected paper back books and Christmas cards for veterans. This club also provided place mats and centerpieces for the State Red Cross meeting at Bedford Springs Hotel.

Of Climate

These librarians, Gary Wolfe, Ralph Peterson, and Judith Cherry, are busily shelving books.

Roberta Helman and Darlene Helman, members of the Librarians Club, are putting the finishing touches on their unique display for National Book Week.

The Librarians Club of our school is a very useful organization. The members are responsible for the organization and efficiency of our modern library. The duties of the members are cleaning and shelving books, filing magazines and newspapers, checking books in and out of the library, and assisting students. The student body and the faculty are greatly indebted to the services of the club.

The officers of Librarians Club are Judy Gaston, news reporter; Phyllis Smith, treasurer; Margaret Fairman, secretary; Jane Barbi, vice president; Sara Houser, president; and Mrs. Taylor, sponsor. Since Phyllis Smith withdrew from school, Judith Cherry has replaced her as treasurer.

The Yellow Jacket staff must hustle to meet their deadlines. Mr. Miller, sponsor and his staff put forth great effort to print the newspaper that has become a weekly tradition at our school.

The paper contains items of interest not only to the student body and faculty, but also to their friends and relatives.

Mr. Miller eagerly watches as student editors, Diana Burns, Marian Hogan, and Thelma Shaffer check pages.

And Soil,

Karen Wiggins assists Evelyn Brady in proofreading a page that is to be placed in the paper.

Harriet Putt and Sara Lou Dalessio interview Frank Runco for information to print in the school paper.

So The Students

The Tri-Hi-Y Clubs, under the supervision of Mrs. Black and Mrs. Dunmire, strive to maintain and extend standards of Christian character throughout the school and community. This world-wide organization carries out its intended purpose in numerous ways. One of their projects was collecting food and clothing and distributing these necessities to some less fortunate families. This organization also sponsors a Christmas party for the children at the Willard home.

In Our School

Contemplating their next moves, the officers of Chess Club are Paul Heberling, president; Ronald Stewart, secretary-treasurer; Robert George, vice president; and Mr. Hoover, advisor.

Chess Club is composed of students who are interested in enriching their minds through a challenging game of chess. Members take their game seriously and challenge other students at the meeting. A person must have a high degree of reasoning to be a truly successful chess player. The members' concern for the game is largely due to the sponsor, Mr. Hoover.

As the yearbook is a constant good will ambassador from our school to the people of the community, it is imperative that this annual be as nearly accurate as possible in its representation. The Centerama staff member must be aware that the yearbook is not a part-time project or an ordinary class. Centerama is a challenging cycle which requires constant application and industry until the finished product is produced.

Editor Bonnie Dilts checks layouts in the dummy book.

John Fulton, Charlie Hartmann, and Dick Lee prepare to leave on a journey to collect ads for the Centerama.

Barry Zias, the vice president of the Camera Club and photography editor of the Centerama, is preparing to take a picture which may be used in the yearbook.

The Camera Club is very active in our school. It works in close association with the Centerama staff in providing suitable photographs for the yearbook. Their advisor, Mr. Coffman, instructs the members in the fundamentals of photography, printing, and developing. Without this organization to record lasting memories on film, our school life would be much less enjoyable.

John Poloski assists Rodney Pruner in properly inserting a negative into the printer. This is only one of the routine steps employed by the Camera Club in producing photographs.

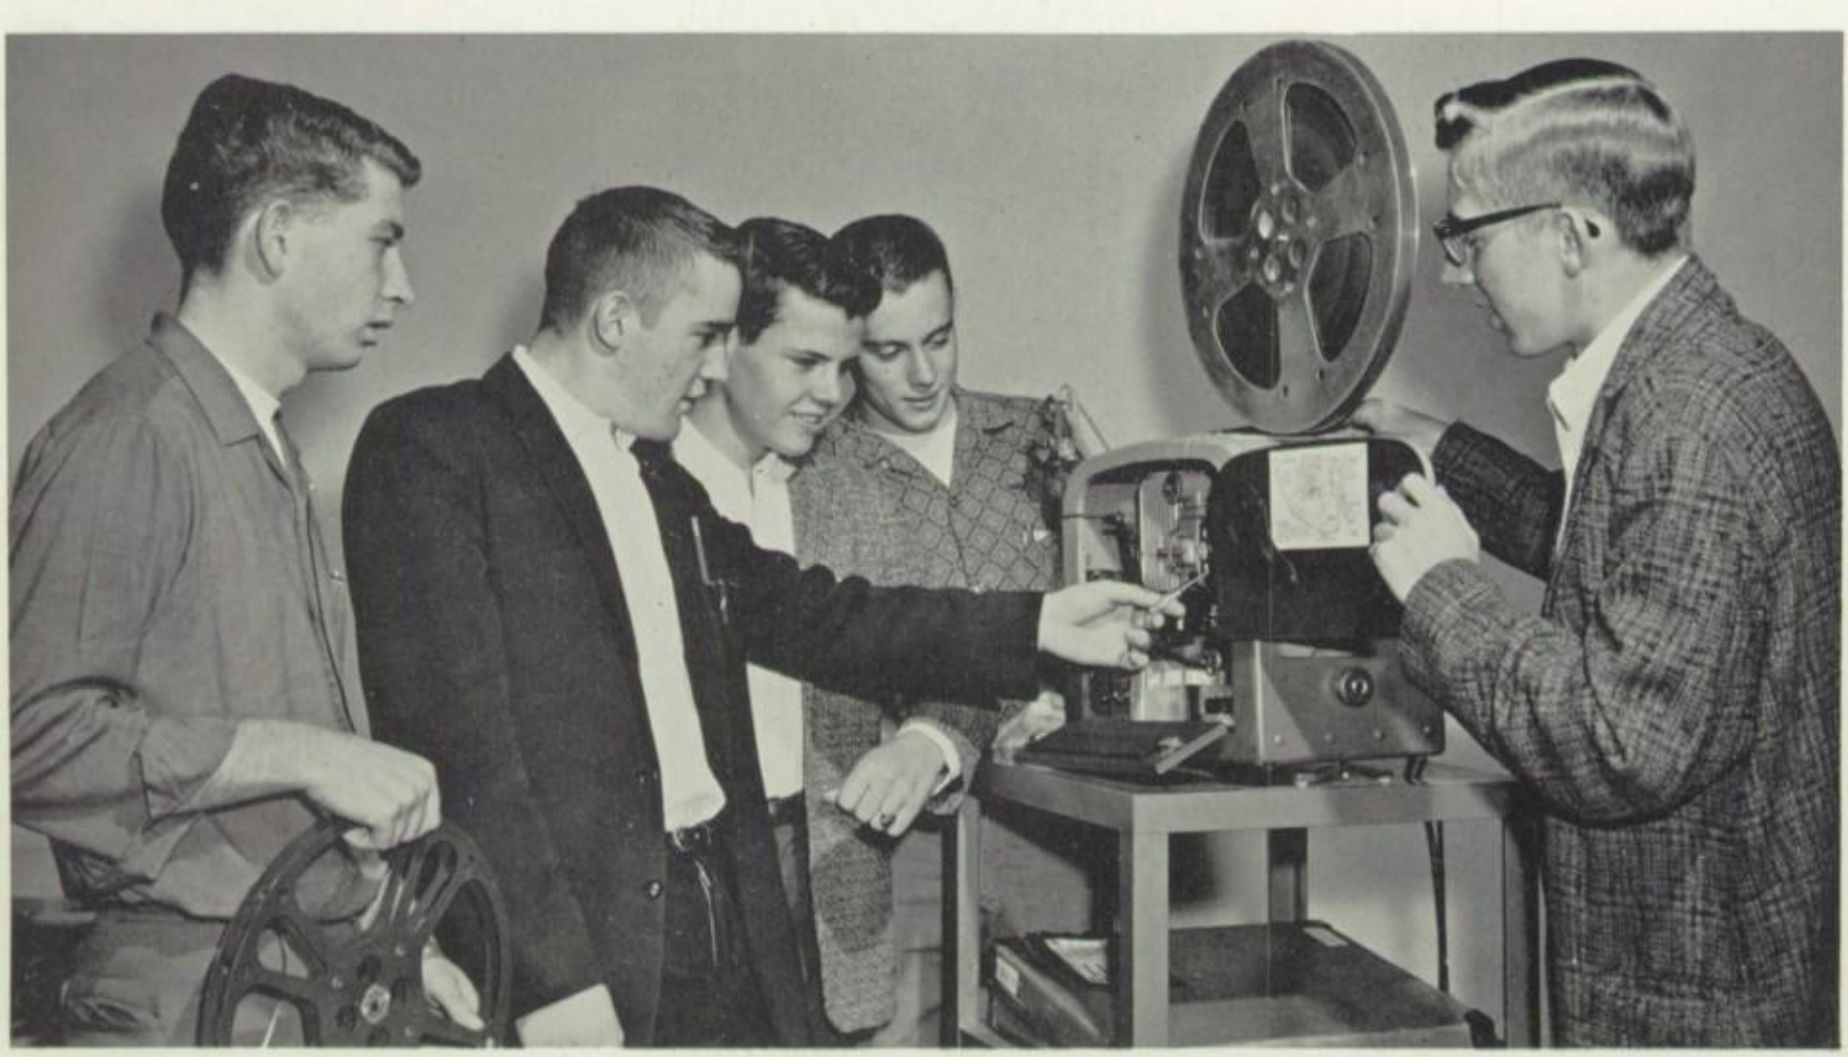
Ring making, one of the activities of the elective art class, is being demonstrated by the instructor, Mr. Palmer, to an attentive group. This activity is open to all senior high students having a higher than average scholastic record in art, and who also have the necessary free periods each week.



Projectionist Club, sponsored by Mr. Keith, is responsible for the maintenance and operation of the school's audio-visual equipment. This includes sound movie projectors, slide projectors, opaque projectors, tachistoscope, phonographs, and other similar aids. These pieces of equipment are frequently helpful in classroom instruction.

The Hi-Y boys under the direction of Mr. Domb strive to advance the standards of good citizenship and Christian character throughout the community. The members attempt to achieve the purposes of their club in various ways. Their acts of good will are appreciated by the various recipients.

The Junior Geography Club, sponsored by Mr. Nealer, stimulates interests in geographic study. The members of this club delve into the study of our earth and its physical characteristics. They also investigate the earth's climate, and its inhabitants. If a person is interested in this type of knowledge, this organization should prove encouraging.

The officers of the Junior High F. H. A. are Mrs. Philippi, advisor; Lois Marshall, vice president; Francis Mizerak, president; Betty Washington, historian; Francis Broskin, parliamentarian; Kay Wolfgang, secretary; Mrs. Walker, advisor; Sherry Coruso, activity leader; and Barbara Baun, treasurer. Absent when picture was taken: Shirley Barr, reporter.

The Future Homemakers of America is made up of girls who are especially interested in increasing their knowledge of the art of homemaking. The Marion Center Chapter of the F.H.A. meets in two separate groups, the senior high and the junior high.

The organization has many purposes. Promoting better home, school, and community relations is the chief objective.

During a girls' F.H.A. career she may work towards obtaining special degrees of recognition. The highest honor a member may win is the State Homemaker's Degree.

Projects of the F.H.A. this year were varied. For Christmas the students dressed dolls which they gave to needy children. The senior high had an informal party and the junior high enjoyed their leisure time by doing handiwork.

Linda Grove, a senior home economics student, is just beginning work on her two piece wool dress which she later entered in the Vogue Fashion Sewing Contest. It was one of the three top winners in the county. She is also active in another field of home economics as the Co-ed Magazine correspondent at Marion Center.

Ann McElhoes, Beverly Shick, and Edith Smith put the finishing touches on their dresses before modeling them at the fashion show. The program this year, entitled "Carnival of Fashions," was done for the benefit of the girls' parents. For the first time, junior high girls were permitted to participate in this fashion parade.

Or With Those

The National Emblem of the Future Farmers of America is significant and meaningful in every detail. Used by members in all recognized units of the organization, it is made up of five symbols: the owl, the plow, and the rising sun within the cross section of an ear of corn which is surmounted by the American eagle. Upon the face of the emblem appear the words, "Vocational Agriculture," and the letters, "F.F.A." The owl is symbolic of wisdom and knowledge; the plow is the symbol of labor and of the tillage of the soil; the rising sun is emblematic of progress and the new day that will dawn when all farmers are trained and have learned to cooperate; the cross section of an ear of corn represents common agricultural interests since corn is native to America and is grown in every state; and the eagle is indicative of the national scope of the organization.

Larry Ackerson is shown with a cow presented to him by the Sears, Roebuck Company. He must in turn present the first calf to another outstanding FFA boy in his chapter. This year's winner of the calf was Bob Dilts.

Kenneth Black is the very capable president of the Future Farmers of America. He has won many awards and done a great deal to further the organization.

A joint meeting of the Indiana County Farmers' Association, the Marion Center Young Farmers, the Purchase Line Young Farmers, and tne Elders Ridge Young Farmers was held on March 15, 1962, in the high school.

The annual Senior Play this year was a riotous comedy dealing with the romantic episodes of one Professor Perry Keats. This dramatic production, entitled Professor, How Could You! was presented in three amusing acts. The cast was comprised of Steve Pappal, Bonnie Dilts, Ivan Wolf, Cheryl Bathurst, Marian Hogan, Jim Shields, Marlene Bonacci, Beckie Walker, Ron Gilkey, Ron Marcoline, Jane Barbi, and Cheryl Miller.

In this scene from the Senior Play, Ivan Wolf threatens Steve Pappal, as Marlene Bonacci and Cheryl Bathurst stand by awe stricken.

The Junior class presented an unusual mystery-comedy as their annual play. The plot was actually quite simple, but was complicated by unusual incidents and the constant shifting of the scene between heaven and earth. The play cast included: Barry Zias, Tom Marshall, Evelyn Brady, John Bush, James Smith, Ginger Feather, Frank Taccone, Kathleen Johnston, Elizabeth Carhart, and Margaret Fairman. The production was under the capable management and direction of Mrs. O. Nichol.

This scene from the Junior Play portrays Tom Marshall (Michael) trying to convince Barry Zias (Alexander Arlington) that he has been murdered and has arrived in heaven.

There Must . . .

This is a scene from one of the plays presented as an assembly by the 10th grade Dramatics Club. The presentation, entitled Scary Hollow, was an effectively presented mystery.

The make-up for the characters of any play is a very important asset to the success of the presentation. The junior play was no exception, and was also aided in its success by the use of proper make-up.

Here Mrs. McQuiston applies facial make-up to Barry Zias, one of the leading characters of the junior play.

Since Marlene changed her residence, the position has been filled by Wanda Brady.

The Senior Concert Band, under the direction of Mr. Koziel, is a vital organization in the musical program of our school. This group, consisting of approximately eighty individuals functioning as one, produces many types of music and is a worthy representative of our school.

A Time. . .

It actively participates in Spring Concert, District Band, and County Band.

The band also presented two joint concerts with the Penns Manor Band. The first was held at Penns Manor on January 25, and the second took place at Marion Center auditorium on March 2.

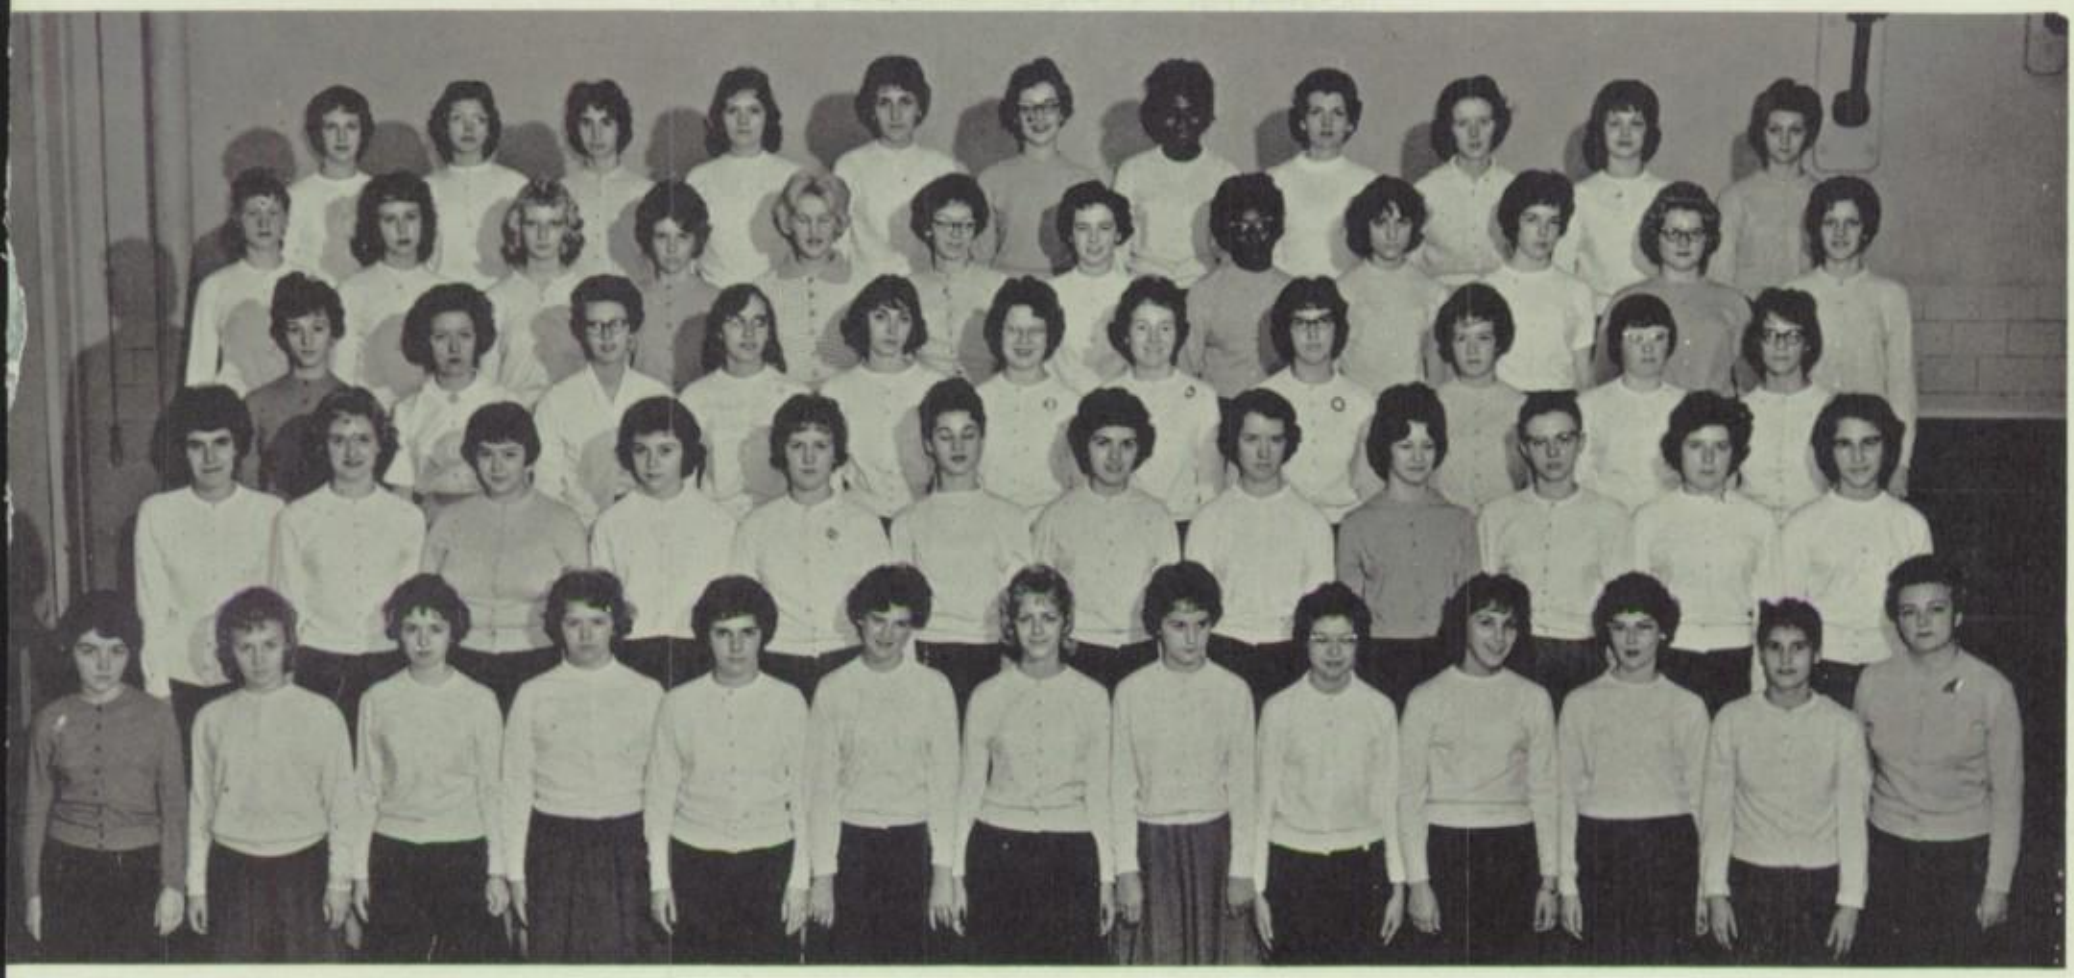
The members of the Girls' Trio are Ann McElhoes, alto; Helen Hastings, first soprano; and Edith Smith, second soprano. Jean Keith is the accompanist.

The Mixed Chorus is the largest vocal organization in our school. Under the direction and supervision of Mrs. Davis, the group practices Monday and Thursday the fifth period. The membership, consisting of sixty-two students, is selected from the senior high level.

Singing such songs as "The Sound of Music," "The Night Before Christmas," and "Angels We Have Heard on High," they perform in the Spring Concert, Christmas program, and various assemblies.

As a special feature this year, they traveled to one of the elementary schools of the district and sang several selections of Christmas music. Each year students are selected to attend the annual District Chorus and the County Chorus. This year nine districts participated in the District Chorus. The County Chorus is composed of students selected from the various schools in the county.

And Relaxation



Girls' Chorus, a selected group of girls under the direction of Mrs. Davis, provides vocal music in various concerts and assemblies. They perform primarily in three part harmony selections.

Dance Band is a small but important group that provides music of various moods for dances and other events. Elizabeth Carhart, band vocalist, occasionally enlightens their performance by accompanying a selection.
